THOUGHTS FROM DEACON BILL GALL

"Jesus is coming! Look busy."

At the end of each liturgical year, through the selected readings, the Church directs our attention to the so-called "Last Things" or "End Times," also called the Eschaton, the days of fulfillment of all that God has promised.

This weekend, we hear from the prophet Daniel that "it shall be a time unsurpassed in distress." In the Gospel, St. Mark tells us, "the sun will be darkened, and the moon will not give its light, and the stars will be falling from the sky."

I'm reminded of the words written by Marguerite Shuster in an issue of The Living Pulpit that "the emphasis on Last Things has not a speculative or an escapist but a fundamentally moral purpose. It comes at least in part from a deep-seated conviction that if God is God, things simply cannot go on forever the way they are. The way things are is a contradiction of the fullness of God's reign. So, first, these prominent themes assure us that whatever things may look like now, however much rope God may now be giving us, God is not ignoring the desperate state of things. Judgement, bringing the triumph of the right and the good, must come.

Second, it warns us sharply to take that reality of an ultimate accounting to heart and act accordingly while there is still time. One day, not too far away - whether because of our own death or because God has brought the whole of human history to a close - time will have run out.

So, you say, what's the good news? Jesus looks beyond the time of distress to the final time when the Son of Man will gather the scattered people of God to himself to a future of eternal peace with God. His second coming will be the final completion of his mission when he "will make all things new" — a new heaven and a new earth — after he has put down the last enemy, which is death, and restored our lowly bodies to immortality, when death will be no more. (Daniel 12:2-3).

What are we to do to prepare for the Second Coming of Jesus? The late, great Jesuit theologian, Fr. Walter Burghardt, suggests a "concern for tomorrow, for what I shall look like when Christ returns - a concern that translates into looking like that now, inside myself, in the way I touch others, in my closeness to Christ."

May Jesus bless each and every one of you.

RELIGIOUS ITEMS FROM THE HOLY LAND

'Catholics from Holy Land' will be displaying and selling olive wood carvings and hand-made religious articles after all the Masses the weekend of November 24/25. Please visit their tables at the main entrance of the church. You might find something useful and at the same time you will be supporting the suffering Catholics in the land hallowed by the presence of Jesus.

FAITH FORMATION FOR ADULTS

ADVENT & END TIMES: HOPE FOR TODAY

Do you ever get impatient waiting for God? Advent brings us three kinds of waiting for God: for the coming of Jesus in the incarnation, which we celebrate at Christmas; for the second coming of Christ at the end of time, reflected in our Advent readings; and for the daily coming of Jesus Christ in our lives today, meeting us in our pain and our need. How can our scriptures and theology about the end times offer hope in the face of very real problems confronting us today? Where do we find joy as we wait for God to come?

Join us to explore this fascinating but sometime-overlooked area of our Church tradition. Tuesday, December 4, at 7pm, Classroom A2 or Wednesday, December 5, at 1 pm, Rectory Conference Room (note new time). For more information contact Gina Cattalini at gcattalini@stbonaventure.net or (925) 672-5800 x2217.

RENEW AND SHARE YOUR FAITH

Are you interested in sharing your Christian faith with other people? If your answer is “yes, but I don’t know how,” then Alpha might be the perfect place for you. Alpha is a series of interactive sessions exploring the Christian faith. Each Alpha session involves food, a film or talk, and small group discussion. Most of all, Alpha is sharing community and the love of Jesus Christ in a no-pressure environment.

St. Bonaventure is looking for people interested in being part of our pilot Alpha program and eventually helping to host future sessions. Our pilot program will be starting in January 2019. Please join us for an informational meeting on Monday, November 19 at 7:00 pm in A2. For more information, please contact Gina Cattalini at gcattalini@stbonaventure.net or 672-5800 x2217. Learn more about Alpha at www.alphausa.org.

MOMS GROUP

An invitation to all parish moms (and children!): come join our St. Bonaventure Moms Group. We meet at 9:45-11:00am on the 1st and 3rd Wednesdays of the month in Room A4. No meeting November 21 due to Thanksgiving; next meeting will be on December 5. Come explore our Catholic faith as women and as parents, and share the joys and challenges of parenting in a casual, welcoming setting. Please contact Michelle at Moms@stbonaventure.net.

WOMEN'S CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP 25TH RETREAT

Retreat brochures are available at the parish office, in the church foyer, online at www.stbonaventure.net and at wcf2019retreat.eventbrite.com. For information, contact Andrea at 925-529-7675.

WOMEN IN PRAYER

OPPORTUNITIES TO DEEPEN YOUR FAITH AND KNOWLEDGE

Would you like the opportunity to learn more about the Catholic faith and how to share it with others? The mission of the Saint Francis de Sales School for Pastoral Ministry of the Oakland Diocese is to form adults to be "missionary disciples," inspired and equipped to bring the Good News of Jesus Christ to their families, parishes and the wider world. The Serra Catechetical Institute is a 1-year formation process for parish and Catholic school catechists, parents and all adults who want to know their Catholic faith better and be able to hand it on more effectively. Both are now accepting applications for Spring 2019. www.oakdiocese.org/spm and www.oakdiocese.org/sci.

PENSAMIENTOS
DEL DIÁCONO BILL
GALL

“¡Jesús viene! Te ves ocupado”

Al final de cada año litúrgico, a través de las lecturas seleccionadas, la Iglesia dirige nuestra atención a las llamadas “Últimas Cosas” o “Últimos Tiempos”, también llamadas Eschaton, los días de cumplimiento de todo lo que Dios ha prometido.

Este fin de semana, escuchamos al profeta Daniel que “será un tiempo sin igual en angustia”. En el Evangelio, San Marcos nos dice que “el sol se oscurecerá, y la luna no dará su luz, y las estrellas caerán del cielo”.

Recuerdo las palabras escritas por Marguerite Shuster en un número de The Living Pulpit que dice que “el énfasis en las Últimas Cosas no tiene un propósito especulativo o escapista, sino fundamentalmente moral. Viene al menos en parte de una profunda convicción de que si Dios es Dios, las cosas simplemente no pueden seguir como siempre: la forma en que son las cosas es una contradicción de la plenitud del Reino de Dios. Entonces, primero, estos temas prominentes nos aseguran que cualquier cosa que se vea ahora, sin importar cuánta cuerda nos esté dando Dios, Él no está ignorando el estado tan desesperado de las cosas. El juicio, que trae el triunfo de lo correcto y lo bueno, debe venir.

En segundo lugar, nos advierte que tomemos en serio la realidad de una contabilidad definitiva y actuemos en consecuencia mientras aún hay tiempo. Un día, no muy lejano, ya sea por nuestra propia muerte o porque Dios ha llevado la historia humana entera a su fin, se habrá acabado “.

Entonces, decimos, ¿cuál es la buena noticia? Jesús mira más allá del tiempo de angustia al tiempo final cuando el Hijo del Hombre reunirá a sus elegidos dispersos, para llevarlos a un futuro de paz eterna con Dios. Su segunda venida será la culminación de su misión cuando “hará todas las cosas nuevas” -un nuevo cielo y una nueva tierra- después de que haya derrotado al último enemigo que es la muerte y restaure nuestros humildes cuerpos a la inmortalidad, cuando ya no exista más la muerte. (Daniel 12: 2-3).

¿Qué debemos hacer para prepararnos para la segunda venida de Jesús? El gran teólogo jesuita difunto, Padre Walter Burghardt, sugiere una “preocupación por el mañana, pero de cómo me veré cuando Cristo regrese, una preocupación que se traduce en verse así mismo ahora, ver hacia dentro de mí, en la forma en que toco a los demás, en mi cercanía a Cristo”.

Que Jesús los bendiga a todos y cada uno de ustedes.
