From the Desk of Deacon BobThe Transfiguration

At the Transfiguration of Jesus, the apostles see Jesus transformed. Gone was the former carpenter, now itinerant rabbi. Before them was Jesus clothed in the glory of his full nature, human and divine. Today, Jesus holds out to us the promise of our own Transfiguration when we will become as he is. While the fullness of our own Transfiguration will happen when Jesus comes again, the time to begin our Transfiguration is now, this very day. To become Transfigured requires us to change.

Human beings fear change. We always want things to remain the same. I remember the time I visited a 90-year-old man in the hospital. When I asked how things were going, he replied, "It's hell getting old, kid!" We all fear getting old and the limitations it places into our lives. We grieve the losses of what once had been. The last 17 years have been pretty tough on me. Physically I have undergone a lot of change, so much so that I joke about walking down the street only to find one of my arms has fallen off. I call out to my son, Luke, "Quick! Pick my arm up before the dog begins to play with it!" The physical limitations which are a part of my life possess a hidden blessing. These limitations have placed more spiritual focus into my life, transforming me into a better person and opening my eyes and my heart to the wonders God has worked in my life. To become Transfigured requires us to let go of past things, and, while grieving the losses of what once had been, look forward to what we will become. Our pathway to the Transfiguration is through the Paschal Mystery of Jesus. To experience the fullness of what he would become, Jesus had to embrace the losses of his passion and death, first, before he could experience the glory of his Resurrection.

Beginning today, we start our journey to our Transfiguration. Let us take the time to appreciate what God has done in our lives. Let us be prepared to let go of who we once were so that we can become who God calls us to be. Let us grieve the losses we experience along the way, but keep our eyes focused on the time when we stand on the mountain top alongside Moses, Elijah, and Jesus at our own Transfiguration.

The Season of Change

I have heard from a number of sources that there is sadness and anger surrounding the three days of Holy Thursday, Good Friday, and the Easter Vigil, which are known as the Season of Triduum. I respect your pain, as I too enjoyed those liturgies we had in the last six years. The Triduum Season, like many things in this life, has to change. In the eyes of the Archdiocese, we are one parish. When we are one parish we should have but one Triduum. We decided to bring this about slowly rather than all at once. I think rather than have negative thoughts about where we are now, we should be grateful for what we had in the past.

We are now in a new reality. Should we have made this change six years ago? I think it would have been a disaster. Giving people time to adjust is always a good thing. We had one Easter Vigil last year and that was a huge success. People from all three sites were in attendance for the super bowl of all liturgies. Now the Triduum will be one liturgy celebrated in the same spot for three days. We are doing stations on Good Friday evening at St. John. I hope all people of the New Prague Area Catholic Community come and we pack the church for this powerful devotion.

I know it is hard to give up things; but, for the health of the Archdiocese, merger occurred six years ago and now we are easing into greater unity as a parish. We are all brothers and sisters in the faith no matter where we celebrate. We need to be grateful for what we have. We have 52 weeks of Masses and many holy days celebrated in the WCC. Fr. Kevin, Deacon Bob, and I are committed to keeping those weekend Masses intact. I will continue to offer devotional activities and pastoral care in addition to the five weekly Masses we have there. My assignment is to primarily serve the WCC, but I have responsibilities to our area and I will work to serve the best way I know how. Let us use our time not to complain about what we once had, but to embrace what is to come.

The issue also includes an in-depth interview with Catholic Extension's chancellor, now-Cardinal Blasé Cupich, who talks about his experience as a mission bishop and explains why "The Church is about mission, not maintenance." Pick up a free copy of the magazine on the credenzas in back of church. We hope you enjoy this quarterly publication and learn more about the important efforts underway to build churches and the Church in America's poorest places, where faith is strong but resources are limited.

After the 20-week ultrasound, Matt and Sarah Smith of Belle Plaine were told their baby had Dandy-Walker malformation (DW), a condition in which part of the brain is missing. They were told their baby may live a day, a week, a month or years but her quality of life wouldn't be there. Her parents chose to love her and hold her as long as they could, and their beautiful baby girl, Payton Faith, was born at 34 weeks. At five weeks Payton had open heart surgery, and since then she has had two surgeries for feeding tubes and in August had brain surgery. Payton has PT and OT three times a week to help combat balance issues and low muscle tone associated with DW. She has brought many people's faith back, made people believe in miracles and brings a smile to everyone's face. She is the little sister to Taylor (9) and Austin (6). To learn more visit www.caringbridge.org/visit/paytonfaithsmith.

Lenten Prayer

*God of all people,
You walk with us on our life's journey.
You know our joys and struggles.
You know us better than we know ourselves.*

This Lenten season, may we too learn to walk with others. Through prayer, fasting, and almsgiving, may we encounter you in our neighbors in need and live your call to serve our human family. Amen.
